TREVOR AMBROSE BIOGRAPHY

Trevor Ambrose knows what it takes when you have to give a speech, pitch or presentation. He also struggled with the fear of public speaking for 12 years.

He decided to do something about it and studied a degree in Business Psychology and Sociology to understand what is holding people back.

Trevor then analysed the world's top speakers and found fundamental principles that make them great presenters. Your team will learn all these top tips and techniques, and will be able to apply them immediately after your training.

Trevor is an author, international speaker and coach for companies like Apple, Westpac, IBM, Canon, Toyota and thousands more.
